THE MATHEMATICAL SCIENCES RESEARCH INSTITUTE INVITES YOU TO AN EXCITING PROGRAM THAT EXPLORES THE STRUCTURE OF ONE OF THE GREATEST PIECES IN CLASSICAL MUSIC:

BEETHOVEN'S GROSSE FUGE, OP. 133

A MASTERPIECE FROM THE COMPOSER'S LATE PERIOD

With the renowned ST. LAWRENCE STRING QUARTET and NPR's ROB KAPILOW

In a 90 minute program of discussion and performance at the

MATHEMATICAL SCIENCES RESEARCH INSTITUTE'S SIMONS AUDITORIUM
17 GAUSS WAY, BERKELEY

Rob Kapilow, host of NRP's "What Makes It Great?"
Photo: Peter Schaaf

Wednesday April 29, 5:30 p.m.

For directions to MSRI, please go to:
http://www.msri.org/about/directions/index_html

FREE and Open to the Public

The world renowned St. Lawrence String Quartet in residence at Stanford:

From left:
Christopher Costanza, cello,
Lesley Robertson, viola,
Geoff Nuttall, violin,
Scott St. John, violin.
Photo: Christian Steiner

MSRI
Mathematical Sciences Research Institute

www.msri.org